

JEFF'S CLINICAL MASTERY REPORT

Hello, my name is Jeff and I currently work as a Quality Engineer. My path to Self-Mastery was different from many because I was brought up in a fundamentalist Christian household.

I came to spirituality to solve a problem that threatened my life. I had a blood clot in my thigh in 1990 and the doctors initially told me that the clot would either cause me to die, or I would lose my leg or I would never walk again.

Those were the only choices that my doctors gave me, BUT I made a fourth choice. ...TO KEEP MY LEG, TO WALK AND TO LIVE.

I spent the next 15 years of my life learning about nutrition, all manners of alternative medicine and finally, reluctantly...THE STUDY OF MY SOUL.

I studied with a few teachers before I found HLC, and with my last teacher, I felt as if I had gone as far as I could with him.

Without a new direction, I started praying...asking for help... then I got an intuitive message to change the wording in my internet search to "spiritual counselor." On the second page, I found the HLC site and I just felt that I needed to investigate it because for some strange reason it just "felt" right to me.

I immediately ordered the new student offer and in a few days I received my Self-mastery book and tapes. I read the first 3 chapters and just kept thinking, "I know this stuff! This is what I've been studying for 15 years!" I was disappointed to not find anything new, but that tele-class that I had paid for was still hanging out there. I postponed it 3 or 4 times; not really wanting to find out that what I had found was not anything new.

My first tele-class was with Hu and I will never forget it. I remember being a bit defensive and guarded. Hu asked me if I had read the book and I told him that I had read the first few chapters. He asked what I thought. I promptly told him that it wasn't anything new...that I already knew this stuff.

He then worded a question that caught me off guard and made me realize something. He said, "So you read the whole book and you understand what it's taken us 25 years of clinical research to put together?"

I sat stunned for a minute and then immediately started backpedaling, "Nnno, "I stammered. "I just read the first few chapters, but I didn't see anything new." I felt for a second that I had regained my position.

Then Hu asked, "So why are you here? How can I help you if you know all of this?" That was a very good question and again I had to drop my guard to answer. The best answer was an honest answer. I told him, "I don't know. I'm here. I'm not sure how or why I got here, but I'm here. I'm hoping you can tell me how you can help me."

Then Hu asked me a few questions. He asked if he could list out some things and that I would honestly respond if I felt I had any emotional pain that was ever attached to these areas. By the time he finished with what seemed like a very long list, I felt different. I felt like a chord had been struck inside of me. I felt like I was in the right place and that Hu could help me.

Asking for help has never come easy for me, but I just knew that Hu could help me..... so I forced myself to swallow my pride and allowed God to help through Hu Dalconzo.

I started my personalized Self-mastery classes in June of 2004 and I have never looked back, and for the first time in 15 years, I will soon be free of any restrictions to my physical activity.

Occasionally, my mind goes back to what the first doctor told me.... Death, amputation or life in a wheelchair, but I thank God that I didn't listen. I refused to accept what the doctors told me.

But, I must share with you that it wasn't until I dug deep and practiced the HLC Self-Mastery and Self-parenting exercises and healed my emotional body..... that any of this was possible. Thank you God!
